Greetings!

Connect ~ Amaze ~ Revitalize!

Join us on Saturday January 9, 2016, from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. for an evening of fun, food, and great conversation at Flag Is Up Farms. Come watch a Join-Up experience. Witness first-hand the powerful relationship of trust and communication between a horse and a human. Afterwards, enjoy a traditional barbecue dinner with me and my wife Pat in our home to talk about the importance of trust, overcoming adversity, achieving your vision, and living strong at any age. This unforgettable experience will transform you.

MONTY ANSWERS

Question:

We look to you to teach us and help us learn about horses - their language, their needs and how we can live in harmony with them. What are you still looking to learn about - is there anything about horses that is still a mystery to you? Joanne Irving

Answer:

Thank you for inquiring of me and stating that you look to me for help to learn about horses. Your question is asking me to tell you if there are still things I want to learn about. Let me state that I have no idea what I still want to learn about. All of these questions are still out there in the universe somewhere. And each of us must continue to be observant so as to discover their needs.

Some people consider me a genius, others have great problems with my concepts. Let me be the first to tell you that I am no genius. The Wright brothers knew more than anyone on earth about manned flight on that day at Kitty Hawk. What they actually knew was a scratch on the surface of manned flight, and since I am the very first to introduce my concepts, I too am scratching the surface.

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth asked me to write my first book in 1989. I wrote it and it became a bestseller. I must confess that I have learned more since 1989 than I ever learned prior to 1989. There is still so much to discover and then to process and deliver to these animals that rely upon us to meet their needs. Each of us must work diligently to perfect the application of these concepts.

Sincerely,
Monty

Test yourself each week as I challenge you to answer the question below. I mean this. Sit down and write an answer. Don't wait for my answer next week. If you have been reading my Weekly Questions and Answers for the last six months, you should be in a position to do this. Send your answer to my team at: askmonty@montyroberts.com

Why should you bother? Because it will help you focus. There is probably a comparable question in your life that needs answering - or will be. If you can gain insight into how to go about answering a practical question that is loosely related to your problem, this exercise will help you answer your nagging question. Then read my answer. I want all of my students to learn to be better trainers than me. That's good for you and good for horses!

Next Week's Question:

Monty is so open and honest in everything he says and does that I feel he answers all relevant questions through his writing, his Equus Online University and during live appearances. I would like to give him the chance to get feedback or views from "Joe Public" on things he wants to know more about-what would he ask me and my friend?

SUCCEED: Digestive Health

"I have believed for years that digestive health has a major impact on a horse's happiness, performance and overall well-being. Just by owning and riding horses, we take them out of their natural environment. We keep them in stalls, we feed them grain, and we exercise them. All of this works against the horse's digestive health.

I also believe there is something you can do to care for your horse's digestive system. I've been using a product called SUCCEED® on my performance horses for many years now, with tremendous results." ~ Monty

Horse Sense for Leaders: Building Trust-Based Relationships Features New York Times Best-Selling Author Monty Roberts

"The connection made in this book between leadership and non-violence is extremely important. Many leaders have employed violence or cruelty to achieve their ends but Monty Roberts has gone in the opposite direction and shows how true leadership is about the development of trust (whether between a human and an animal or between humans) and encouraging those around one to reach their full potential. Everybody could benefit from absorbing the practices outlined in this book."

Andrew Rowan is the Chief Scientific Officer for The Humane Society of the United States.

Premise of the book: Monty Roberts, author of The New York Times bestseller, The Man Who Listens to Horses, has cooperated with the writing of a new book, Horse Sense for Leaders. The book borrows from the fascinating life of Roberts, known as the horse whisperer, for a highly engaging look at the significance of trust-based leadership. The book blends Monty's work as a world leader of non-violent horse training with current research on the value of a trust-based leadership approach. This unique approach allows for an interesting and provocative read on how leaders can engage followers in more effective relationships at work.
