Wednesday May 11, 2016

Greetings!

MONTY ANSWERS

Question:

In Austria, the number of horses is growing constantly-do you think the problems with horses are also growing?

Answer:

The problems with horses are not growing at all, in my opinion. It is the problems that people bring to the relationship. We desperately need better education and more understanding of who the horses are and what they need.

Sincerely,
Monty

Monty's Principles

Which Horse Is Your Favorite?

Hi Monty,

I don't know if this email is going to reach you, but I really want to let you know.

My husband and I had tickets to visit you and your team at Zweibrücken. We own four horses and we want to treat them as well as we can.

That was the first time I've joined your event. I didn't know much about you and what you do. After I saw you I was so impressed that I wanted to see you again in Ohlstadt.

The event in Ohlstadt was amazing-I was just blown away. That was the best performance I have ever seen.

You gave me a hard time to answer what I liked the best-I liked it all in a matter of fact!

In the end I told you the last one. This horse had a trauma and he went with you in the trailer within such a short time. I know how hard it is to deal with a trauma and I am a lucky person that I am still alive and I've learned to deal with it.

I thought also of the one mare, she felt so comfortable with you, she rolled herself on the floor right next to you.

I love the message you're sending out and how hard you work to reach so many people. You have the talent and the opportunity to do this and it is so important.

I think, it is also the message to regain the trust and the confidence in myself and others!

You are a wonderful man and it seems like you remained down-to-earth. I like that.

I work as an executive assistant and I suggested you to our junior management.

I really wanted to let you know about my positive impression. I hope I get the opportunity to see you again one day soon in Germany!

Kind regards,
Diana

Monty's Challenge

Test yourself each week as I challenge you to answer the question below. I mean this. Sit down and write an answer. Don't wait for my answer next week. If you have been reading my Weekly Questions and Answers for the last six months, you should be in a position to do this. Send your answer to my team at:
askmonty@montyroberts.com

Why should you bother? Because it will help you focus. There is probably a comparable question in your life that needs answering - or will be. If you can gain insight into how to go about answering a practical question that is loosely related to your problem, this exercise will help you answer your nagging question. Then read my answer. I want all of my students to learn to be better trainers than me. That's good for you and good for horses!

~ Monty

Next Week's Question:

You have been in Austria before-can you tell if there is a difference between the horses here in Austria and in other countries of the world?

AFTERNOON TEA WITH MONTY

A unique opportunity takes place on Thursday 19th May 2016 from 2.30 pm to 6 pm. Monty will be in England for a short time during the Queen's birthday celebrations and before leaving for South Africa.

Come and relax with a small group and soak up a lifetime's worth of wisdom from 'The Man Who Listens to Horses' as he shares and listens to your questions too.

"I have believed for years that digestive health has a major impact on a horse's happiness, performance and overall well-being. Just by owning and riding horses, we take them out of their natural environment. We keep them in stalls, we feed them grain, and we exercise them. All of this works against the horse's digestive health.

I also believe there is something you can do to care for your horse's digestive system. I've been using a product called SUCCEED® on my performance horses for many years now, with tremendous results." ~ Monty

Horse Sense for Leaders: Building Trust-Based Relationships Features New York Times Best-Selling Author Monty Roberts

"The connection made in this book between leadership and non-violence is extremely important. Many leaders have employed violence or cruelty to achieve their ends but Monty Roberts has gone in the opposite direction and shows how true leadership is about the development of trust (whether between a human and an animal or between humans) and encouraging those around one to reach their full potential. Everybody could benefit from absorbing the practices outlined in this book."

Andrew Rowan is the Chief Scientific Officer for The Humane Society of the United States.

Premise of the book: Monty Roberts, author of The New York Times bestseller, The Man Who Listens to Horses, has cooperated with the writing of a new book, Horse Sense for Leaders. The book borrows from the fascinating life of Roberts, known as the horse whisperer, for a highly engaging look at the significance of trust-based leadership. The book blends Monty's work as a world leader of non-violent horse training with current research on the value of a trust-based leadership approach. This unique approach allows for an interesting and provocative read on how leaders can engage followers in more effective relationships at work.
