Question

What's left for you for the future?

Answer

You ask this question of an 82 year old man? Actually, I do have an answer for this question. My plan is to learn as much as I can to leave to the next generation so horses can have a better life after I am gone.

Sincerely,

MONTY'S PRINCIPLES HORSE SENSE FOR PEOPLE

From Facebook: "Hey Monty Roberts - I met you in Buellton at the Farm Store in early June. You spoke with my granddaughter about her love of horses. I knew you were blessed by your mere presence. I could tell you loved horses and kids. I had no idea who you were, and here you are traveling the world and doing awesome work! I have been enjoying your posts and watching you perform your magic! Impressive, my friend!"

MONTY'S CHALLENGE

Test yourself each week as I challenge you to answer the question below. I mean this. Sit down and write an answer. Don't wait for my answer next week. If you have been reading my Weekly Questions and Answers for the last six months, you should be in a position to do this. Send your answer to my team at: askmonty@montyroberts.com

Why should you bother? Because it will help you focus. There is probably a comparable question in your life that needs answering... or will be. If you can gain insight into how to go about answering a practical question that is loosely related to your problem, this exercise will help you answer your nagging question. Then read my answer. I want all of my students to learn to be better trainers than me. That's good for you and good for horses!

~ Monty

NEXT WEEK'S QUESTION

Dear Sir,

First, I would like to tell you how much I enjoy watching you and all your knowledge. You train horses like you truly love them.

I am a 59-year-old lady and I've had high-level show horses as well as pleasure horses for over 50 years. My husband and I now raise American Quarter Horses. I would like to ask your advice for one of my mares.

"Sugar" is a very well-bred mare but has a history. She has not been broken yet and she is 7 years old. That's ok with me. I just want to work with her enough to get her trust so she is comfortable with me handling her.

In her life, she has only known pain from humans. When they needed to catch her, they would rope her and choke her down. She is completely terrified with anything ever resting on her neck. Even a simple string of binder twine.

We got her on a trade and I will not just "ship her" because she is difficult. I need help with getting her to trust me. I never want to get her and I know I can do this, maybe with your help. What do you think?

I am not interested in getting rough and forcing her into anything. Thank you so very much for reading my email and I look forward to hearing from you.

Respectfully,

Cece Campbell is the model of encouragement for the next generation to enjoy horses. She has 7 AQHA All Around Championship Awards and another 9 in the PCQHA. And Jenna Asnault shares her story of the journey to find her horsey calling. It is so compelling it got picked up for their national press release. Plus Jamie Jennings reads a Q&A from Ask Monty.
